WE NOMINATE

Gordon Alexander Craig, one of this country's distinguished historians and known in Europe as well as in the United States as a specialist in the allied fields of diplomatic and military history, who in the weeks just ahead will hold the spotlight as director of the Princeton University Conference devoted to "Germany: Problems and Prospects." During the period March 14-16, this 46-year old Princetonian will be largely responsible for the guidance of a conference, the 30th in a series spanning the past four years, which will bring together 100-plus experts deeply concerned with the major issue confronting a divided West-East world—the question of a unified Germany and the related situation in Berlin.

At a time when President Eisenhower, Chancellor Adenauer and other spokesmen for the West are moving towards "Summit Meetings," the University Campus will provide the back-drop for far-ranging discussions revolving about the economic and political development of West Germany, Western Germany Society in 1960 and "Divided Germany." All of this, open by invitation to American and German scholars, business and industrial executives with close connections with West Germany, and top-ranking observers, has been planned over the past year by Craig and associates in the fields of economics, public affairs, sociology and Germanic languages and literatures.

Valedictorian of the Princeton Class of 1936, one of the handful of three-year graduates in Princeton's pre-World War II history and, subsequently, a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University, Craig's most recent major work, "From Bismarck to Adenauer: Aspects of German Statecraft," accentuates his deep interest in all things bearing upon the near-phenomenal development of West Germany. It is his abiding conviction that the evolution of West Germany under the leadership of its first chancellor, Dr. Adenauer, holds the keys to the West's hopes on the European Continent.

Craig, Scotland-born, a one-time resident of Toronto, Canada, and a graduate of Dickinson High School in Jersey City, was recognized some 24 years ago in the Princeton Senior Poll as the "most brilliant" and "most scholarly" member of his class. Some 15 years later he more than fulfilled these prophecies by earning a full professorship at age 37, (an almost unheard-of attainment in the social sciences) and by shortly thereafter editing what one authority termed "the best-informed, most authoritative and most provocative treatment of diplomatic history available for the period indicated."

Rated year upon year as one of the University's "inspiring professors" and a frequent lecturer at the National War College, Columbia, Bryn Mawr and Johns Hopkins, Craig, a Marine Corps veteran of World War II, helped bring into being in 1951 one of the most articulate and yet gripping volumes of military history to come out of the Second World War. He was chairman of the Princeton Marine Corps History Project, that published the searching "U.S. Marines and Amphibious War," the first study to document the "why" and "how" of landing on a hostile shore.

For his achievement as a historian of the front rank; for his foresight and understanding in helping organize, and then implementing, the impending conference on Present-Day Germany; for adding a new dimension to Princeton's stature as a world center; he is Town Topics' nominee for

THE POLITICAL PICTURE

Four Careers May End. It is possible that the Princeton community may lose the services by the end of 1960 of four unusually able members of its two governing bodies. Two of them said this week that they definitely will not seek re-election, and the status of the other pair remains very much in doubt.

Council President Richard A. Lester told Town Topics that he will not be a candidate for a second three-year term on the Borough governing body. In addition to his position as a member of the Princeton University faculty, he cited "another project," currently in the planning stage, as demanding enough of his time so that continued service to the municipality will be impossible.

Councilman Richard D. Colman (who began the week in Princeton Hospital undergoing tests for gastritis) has also indicated that he has no intention of seeking a new term. Mr. Colman, whose duties as Princeton's head coach of football are very much of a year round assignment, is in his sixth year on Council.

He was elected first in 1953 and was named to a second three-year term in 1957. Both he and Councilman Lester are Democrats, their presence on the governing body helping to give it the first 4-2 majority that party has enjoyed in more than a quarter century.

No Decision in Township. With a week to go before the March 10 deadline for filing for a place on the April primary ballot, neither Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman nor Committeeman Stanley C. Smoyer has made his position known. Both Republicans, they were elected to their first terms in 1957.

Mayor Fairman is believed to have reached a decision but said that he will not make a public statement until next week. Mr. Smoyer is currently vacationing in Mexico and his office at Johnson & Johnson in New Brunswick, where he is a member of the legal staff, said that he was not expected back there before March 11.

There is no indication that Mr. Smoyer has taken out the necessary petition which must be filed by next Thursday to meet the primary deadline. Several associates here said this week that they do not believe he intends to seek a new term.

For Princetonians once again, the trend was crystal clear. The multiple and complex demands of municipal government were more than the conscientious volunteer public servant could meet, and the supply of such manpower that somehow has lasted into the 1960's will soon be exhausted.

COMMITTEE FORMED

To Promote Fluoridation. The Council of Community services has appointed a special committee to distribute information on fluoridation and to encourage civic groups to express themselves on the question. Dr. Benjamin Shimberg, 26 Cuyler Road, has been named chairman.

Mrs. Jerome Lawson, 38 Marion Road West and Bernard C. Cooke, 87 Rollingmeade, will serve with Dr. Shimberg. Mr. Cooke is president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee plans to leave at the Princeton Public Library a kit of materials relating to fluoridation. The pamphlets come from the U. S. Public Health Service, the New Jersey State Department of Health and the American Dental Association.

Doctors and dentists in the area will be asked to tell their patients about fluoridation and the state Department of Health will send each physician and dentist a supply of pamphlets for distribution.

Meanwhile, the fluoridation question has been placed on the agenda of Princeton's two governing bodies. Township Committee will read next Monday night a letter from the Township Board of Health requesting the adoption of a resolution favoring fluoridation. The next night, Borough Council will act on a similar request from the Borough Board of Health.

ROUND-UP

Rainfall for the first two months of the year is almost 50 percent above average, totalling 8.53 inches. . . every month since last October has produced more precipitation than normal and the water-table is much higher than usual because the ground has been thawed so much of the time as a result of the mild winter. . . actually, it has snowed more often than last winter but the total fall has been light. . . March began with a tenth of an inch and temperatures in the low 20's.

Sneak thieves were at work again last weekend. . . John H. Dillon, 237 Elm Road, lost $35 from his wallet when an intruder entered the house through a bedroom window early Sunday morning. . . thefts from parked cars included a mounted tire from an automobile owned by Jay Luckner, 14 E. Stanworth; four hubcaps from the car of Anthony Gaylord, 354 Ewing; and a windshield wiper from the car of E. J. Eckel of Pennington while it was parked in a Palmer Square lot.

Those two excavations on Nassau Street, one at Vandeventer, the other at Charlton, are the result of Public Service efforts to assure an adequate power load for the community. . . additional cables are being installed to fill the need, which will become much greater with the return of warm weather and the steadily-increasing use of air conditioners.

TRUSTEES RE-ELECTED

At Hospital Meeting. Five trustees of Princeton Hospital were re-elected to three-year terms Monday night at the annual meeting held by the Hospital corporation. The five trustees were elected by 97 members of the 152 eligible to vote. Members of the corporation also passed unanimously a motion by Mrs. Archibald Crossley aimed at broadening the voting base of the corporation.

In a crowded, smoky meeting often marked by sharp exchanges, several new members of the corporation challenged the voting procedure which required a signature on each ballot.

Mrs. David Wells, 109 Linden Lane, moved that balloting be secret without signature "to preclude identification of the voter." Mrs. Crossley asked B. Franklin Bunn, presiding officer, whether the corporation's by-laws specified secret voting, and Mr. Bunn said they did not.

Mrs. Richard Siegler, Rocky Hill, president of the Princeton Childbirth Education League, said she had "the strongest kind of objection against signing a ballot" as "a point of honor in a democratic society." She said that she had been told by Mrs. Donald W. Griffin, secretary of the Board of Trustees, that identification was usually handled by checking members' names on a list.

"Is there a special way of voting this particular evening?" Mrs. Siegler asked.

Mrs. Griffin replied that, although identification was usually made through a list, the procedure might have been changed on this occasion "because we don't usually have more than five candidates."

"There'll be more than five from now on," Mrs. Siegler retorted.

The Results. Eight candidates

Roses and Rhubarb INTANGIBLES . . .

*"Tis but a little faded flower
But oh, how fondly dear
'Twill bring me back one golden hour
Through many a weary year."*

ELLEN C. HOWARTH

Now, I'm not suggesting that flowers are as intangible as, say, insurance. Surely the folks that buy flowers get something they can see and smell and touch. Nevertheless, there is something intangible in the fragile beauty of a flower, something which, after 11 years as a florist, I can recognize as being sentiment. "Sentiment," that's our product. And adding expression to life's great moments is our game.

Consider that a handful of violets from a child is a heartful of love to a mother, or that a sprightly noisemaker to some lovely miss may symbolize a budding romance. Reflect on the way that flowers, tender and fragile as life itself, convey the reverence and respect, the loss we feel for a departed friend.

Vicariously, as we ply our art, we experience these feelings with our customers. With them, we share in life's great moments: the highs, the lows, the exhilaration, the despair. In every way, flowers belong. They are the noble gesture. Be assured when you "say it with flowers" from Allen's, that we appreciate these subtle "intangibles." No order in our shop is ever "just another order."

To this we are dedicated.

competed for the five available trustee posts. Mr. Bunn and the trustees agreed to identify members by checking their names against identification cards, and the election proceeded.

The winning trustees were Mrs. Griffin, Albridge C. Smith, III and John H. Wallace, Jr., each with 74 votes; Edgar S. Macgill, 73 votes, and Richard G. Macgill, 72 votes. Mrs. Dennis Flanagan and William Flemer, III, both candidates supported by the Childbirth Education League, received 24 votes and Lawrence O. Hous-toun Jr., received 21.

Mrs. Crossley, 21 Battle Road, presented her motion after commending the Board of Trustees and explaining that she offered the proposal "as a matter of principle." "More people should have a chance to serve," she said. "Any general tendency to self-perpetuation is not to the advantage of the community."

Specifically, her motion asked that the corporation recommend to the Trustees that they appoint a committee of five to study changes in the by-laws. The changes would hinge on two suggestions: (1) appoint a standing membership committee to campaign actively and publicly for members and then grant membership privileges to anyone who has contributed to any of the many funds that support the hospital; (2) prohibit trustees from serving consecutive terms of office, the number of permissible consecutive terms to be determined by study.

John H. Wallace, Jr., president of the board and a member since 1945, seconded Mrs. Crossley's motion.

Until about six years ago, anyone could vote at Hospital elections who had contributed to any Hospital fund; the Building and Equipment Fund, the Finance and Endowment Fund, and so on, or who had given $25 to the Community Chest. The rules were changed because election bookkeeping became impossibly cumbersome. At present, only those who have given to the Membership Fund of the Corporation are eligible.

A LOOK TO THE FUTURE

Hospital Issues Annual Report. The 40th annual report of Princeton Hospital was presented Monday night to members of the Hospital Corporation at its annual meeting.

John H. Wallace, Jr., president of the Board of Trustees, outlined seven broad areas in which he hoped the Hospital would be able to expand in 1960 and in the years ahead:

1. The establishment of a home-nursing care program to provide adequate care at lower cost and to relieve the pressure on available space.

2. The establishment of preventive medicine clinics and sponsorship of community health education.

3. The integration of public health facilities with those of the hospital, providing a more complete health service to the community and, hopefully, avoiding duplication of effort.

4. Care of the chronically ill and aged.

5. Expansion of the hospital to provide additional beds and facilities, especially for pediatric and maternity departments and the enlargement of diagnostic units.

6. Provision for additional resident physicians' quarters to attract more physicians to the Hospital.

7. Expansion of the Medical Arts Building.

How's His Bite?

*March's lion?
Just a cub—
But will his roar grow?
There's the rub!*

—ANDROCLES

The next 20 days will be interesting, weather-wise, as signs mount that winter could be saving its Sunday punch for the last three weeks of its stay. There's good reason to believe that all the past mildness will be compensated for prior to the arrival of spring.

The week, for example, began with a temperature dip to 18. It would warm up, the Man promised, but possibly just enough to bring snow around the freezing level. That could come Thursday night or Friday, he said, with clearing in store for the weekend.

Spring was still just another word in the dictionary.

Mr. Wallace's report pointed out that such a program would be expensive and suggested that it might cost over $5,000,000 over a period of ten years.

The annual report also summarizes the suggestions made by a Symposium on the Hospital's Next Decade. Participants included specialists in medicine and hospital administration and representatives of Trustees and the Hospital staff.

Among these suggestions are that Princeton University explore the possibility of a two-year medical school. The Symposium also suggested that Trustees authorize the purchase of properties around the hospital to be used for expansion, so that the Hospital could develop into a total community health center.

In estimating the Hospital's needs for the future, the Symposium's members projected an eventual population of 50,000 in the Kendall Park area.

EVENING OF ELEGANCE: Typical of the modern Paris fashions featured in the Theatre du Vieux Colombier's production of Moliere's "Le Misanthrope" are these worn by Jacques Francola as Oronte and Madeleine Delavalrie as Celestine. The show is coming to McCarter Theatre next Friday, March 11.

News Of The THEATRES

FASHIONS FEATURED

In "Le Misanthrope," Those with a flair for fashion will find a special fascination in the production of Moliere's "Le Misanthrope," scheduled for next Friday evening, March 11, at McCarter Theatre. A modern dress version of the 17th century comedy, this presentation of the Theatre du Vieux Colombier features costumes in the latest Paris mode.

The costumes for the three feminine roles, reflecting the high society elegance which is the subject of the play, were created by the French designer Pierre Cardin. The colors of the gowns—rose, light blue and reddish brown—are said to be those currently in favor in Paris, and the fabric from which they were made cost more than $52 a yard.

The dresses created such a stir in New York that the Fashion Institute of Technology booked the production for special showings. The men's costumes are the last word, too, having been designed by Larsen of Paris and executed in the finest cloths by French tailors.

Those interested in obtaining seats for this demonstration of French "haute couture" may buy a ticket at the University Store or order one by mail from McCarter Theatre, Box 526, Princeton. Orchestra seats are $4 each, while mezzanine prices are $4, $3.50, $3, $2.50 and $2. Less than 200 remain.

PANTOMIME HIGHLIGHTED

In Italian Production. The centuries-old theatrical tradition of pantomime will be highlighted in the performance here next Thursday, March 10, of the Piccolo Teatro di Milano, first Italian theatrical group to visit this country in 35 years.

The performance, staged here under the auspices of Dana Attractions, is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at McCarter Theatre. This will be the group's only New Jersey appearance.

The company will present Carlo Goldoni's 18th century classic, "The Servant of Two Masters." Performed in the style of the "commedia dell'arte," the show relies on pantomime, music and acrobatics to such an extent that knowledge of Italian is not necessary for understanding. The group has presented the show in Scandinavia, South America and North Africa, as well as at international festivals in Berlin, Edinburgh, Holland and Stratford-on-Avon.

Tickets are still available at all prices. They are on sale at the University Store or may be reserved by calling WA 4-1876.

DESTINE TO RETURN

On Saturday, March 26, Jean Leon Destine and his Haitian Dance Company will return to Princeton on Saturday, March 26, in a performance at McCarter Theatre. The show, which was a sellout in its 1957 Princeton visit, is being presented under the auspices of Dana Attractions.

Mr. Destine, acclaimed as Haiti's greatest dancer-choreographer, will present a program entitled "Fiesta in Haiti." The program fuses the two cultural traditions of Haiti, the primitive rituals of Africa and the refined and elegant social dances of the 18th century French court.

Also featured in the program will be the noted Haitian drummer, Alphonse Cimber, known internationally as the "genie of the drums." Tickets for the performance are now on sale at the University Store.

SHAW IS SCHEDULED

"Don Juan in Hell." The "Don Juan in Hell" section of Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman" will be given by the Chapel Deacons of Princeton University on March 10, 11, 12 and again on March 19 in the choir of the University Chapel. Performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. and admission is free.

Michael Pulman will be heard as Don Juan, Shulamith Oppenheim as Dona Ana, Emery Battis as the statue and Eugene Swigart as the Devil. Shirley Rennie has designed the costumes and Mrs. Erling Dorf will be in charge of make-up. Monty Davis, of the class of 1960, will direct. This is the first Chapel Deacons' Play in which members of the Princeton community have been chosen for the cast. In other productions, only Deacons have taken part.

CUMMINGS TO READ

In Rare Public Appearance. E. E. Cummings, who has been called one of the greatest modern poets, will read his poetry and discuss it on Wednesday, April 6, in McCarter Theater. Lampshade Productions is sponsoring the appearance.

The 65-year-old poet, known for his disdain of the capital letter, has written more than 25 volumes of poetry and a novel, "The Enormous Room." Cummings was an intimate friend of James Joyce and Bernard Shaw. His readings have been compared to those of Edith Sitwell, W. H. Auden and T. S. Eliot and he is said to spend hours preparing a single reading.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Bramble Bush (March 2-8). If nothing else, gives you a lot for your money. To wit: 1) a small but seething New England town with carefully nurtured similarities to Peyton Place; 2) a dying man's wife who is in love with his physician, who in turn is the dying man's best friend; 3) a detailed mercy killing; 4) a sensual and wildly jealous nurse who is blackmailed into posing for indecent pictures; 5) the courtroom sequence apparently necessary to every other current Hollywood film, and 6) a lecherous newspaper editor. It's all in Technicolor, which lends sort of a festive air.

The stars are Richard Burton, Barbara Rush, Jack Carson and Angie Dickinson. Daniel Petrie directed. The issues raised by the romance between the doctor (Burton) and the wife (Miss Rush), together with the mercy-killing question, are important and competently introduced. But no intelligent answers or even real hints at a solution are forthcoming, and the film dissolves into absurdity in the melodramatic courtroom scene and the irrelevant plot complication of the blackmailing photographer, which seems to have been inserted for no other reason than to give Miss Dickinson an opportunity to appear in a towel. She performs this assignment, it must be admitted, with admirable skill.

There will be a special children's show at the Playhouse on Saturday, March 5, at 1 P. M. The program will include "The Little Savage" starring Pedro Armendariz, and cartoons.

Sink the Bismarck! (March 9-15) is a fascinating, largely nonsense war picture that reaches almost epic power through the skillful interspersing of actual newsreel films in key scenes. The stars are Kenneth More and Dana Wynter, and Lewis Gilbert directed. The screenplay, by Edmund H. North, was adapted from a book by C. S. Forester.

In 1941 British military fortunes were at their nadir. The Dunkirk disaster had crippled the army, the isles were wide open to air raids and all rebuilding efforts were centered around the thin trans-oceanic supply line. Already hard hit by U-boat activities, this line was threatened with extinction if the Nazi battleship Bismarck escapes from its North Sea hiding place.

At this point More, who sternly refuses to reveal his grief over the death of his wife in an air raid, is named chief of naval operations with Winston Churchill's unequivocal command ("At all costs, sink the Bismarck!") still fresh in his ears. His assistant is Miss Wynter, a Wren officer. At first More's strategies are unfruitful, as the Bismarck easily sinks one English battleship and disables a cruiser, but things begin to look up when the planes of the carrier Ark Royal, on which More's son is an aerial gunner, are able to damage the German ship. This gives the British battleships King George V and Rodney time to catch up with the Bismarck and engage her in one of the most grippingly realistic sea battles ever put on the screen.

The romance between More and Miss Wynter is too secondary to interfere much with the business at hand. More, however, gives a perceptive and moving portrayal as a man who puts duty above the most deeply felt emotional considerations. The film is in CinemaScope. Recommended.

THE GARDEN

The Cousins (March 2-5), originally released as "Les Cousins," is a topnotch French drama and one of the most interesting films of the year. The stars are Gerard Blain, Jean Claude Brialy and Juliette Mayniel.

Set in Paris in the midst of Sorbonne University beatnikdom, the film recounts the story of a naive but honest pastoral type who visits his sophisticated and virtually degenerate city-dwelling cousin and is almost destroyed by the experience. The performances are taut and meaningful, and many of the scenes are handled with a surprising frankness which makes this an adult item, albeit a good one. Subtitles translate the French dialogue. Recommended.

Hand-Made Soap for Sale. It's been a while since we last made a batch of soap so we're a little rusty on technical details. But some people down in the Carolinas have been airing up batches at regular and frequent intervals, and although they don't provide the technical instruction, they do produce a line of soap which is unique, sweet-smelling and, apparently, quite good at getting the dirt off.

This hand-made soap is available at the Princeton Gift Shop, 13 Palmer Square. It comes in rough-hewn balls, proper little oblong cakes or in a big bar which you hack with a knife as the need for soap arises.

The balls are larger than a golf ball, smaller than a baseball and, as said before, rough-hewn, exactly as they come from the careful hand of the molder. They are delicately colored and scented in lilac, rose, lavender, pine, bayberry, spice and so on.

A big ball (softball size) has a cord running through it to go around your neck while you're showering. Three balls for $1.50 the big one for $1.50.

If you prefer, you may have lemon, pine, castile, or bayberry soap in a 12-inch bar for $1.50. Slice off pieces of soap as you need them.

The same company has a collection of colored candles in glass apothecary jars at $1.25, $1.95 and $2.50 sizes. There is lilac, apple blossom, magnolia, lavender, pine and pot-pourri (layers of all the rest) to give a pleasant fragrance to your room.

New wooden jewelry at the Gift Shop is made of teak, ebony or palisander, outlined and inlaid with pewter, either in a fine line or in small, random dots. The forms are varied and gentle: wings, curved hearts on long ovals, worked into pins and earrings.

Jensen-designed silver jewelry uses the palette shape found so often in modern pieces, and modified leaf and bud designs. There are pins, earrings and bracelets and of them, the bracelets are possibly the most dramatic, exploding into three-inch-wide bands from a simple one-inch start.

When you pay your bills next month, be sure to use scented sealing wax on the envelope. The gift shop has about ten colors (15¢ each) and several seals, including flowers, the word "love" (that's to pay the milk man), and all initials.

Cherries Are Ripe. So are strawberries, apples and raspberries in The Knitting Shop's new

Two-Ply Tiger

A tiger that's "different" is a rare beast in this town, where the tigers sometimes seem to outnumber the bassett hounds. The one we have in mind is Danish, of all things, and he hangs out at the Princeton Gift Shop, 13 Palmer Square. (He has a leonine friend, but the mascot collectors at Columbia University do not concern us at the moment.)

This tiger stands on his haunches, about 10 inches high and he is made entirely of rope. Two heavy strands make his body and a knot in the end of the strands makes his head. A couple of hemp fibers have been pulled out to give him whiskers and each of the two strands has been chopped off to give him a pair of flat ears. The only part of him that isn't rope is his eyes. They have been ainted on the rope.

The matching lion is just the same except that he has a mane made of ravelled rope. Price for tiger or for lion: $7.50.

collection of needle and petit point. These are bright, happy shades of red and pink used in full-blown, tastefully arranged clusters of fruit. Use them on the chairs in a sunny country dining-room.

Their matchmates are wallets, glasses cases and bags with the same fruits in smaller scale. You may have a clutch purse, a long bag or a pouch bag with lots of red piping enclosed in the kits so that you can finish your petit point case with a round of cheer.

The Scotch, one eye on the dry-cleaning bill, have produced a washable wool in nine authentic tartans. The shop on Tulane Street has them in Balmoral, Dress Gordon and Dress Stewart, with six others available. You get one and one-quarter yards of 56-inch fabric.

Pringle now has a Shetland and mohair kit consisting of a silky (because of the mohair) tweed and yarn to match. Lavender, gold, green and a grey-blue are the colors in this quiet palette.

Ayr has 17 colors in its yarn-fabric kit. These are for the lady who likes bright shades, like pale shrimp, coral pink, Sarringham blue, luggage. There is even a pale grey, which is an unusual shade in the tweedy world of Scotch imports.

A. T. MacAuslan of Glasgow has a hand-woven Shetland with matching yarn. We saw it in soft strawberry pink and in teal blue. Also comes in ancient tartan green.

Well, back to needlepoint again. There's a collection here at the shop that starts out with —Continued on Page 5

Report from THE MAYOR

Like a lion. It seemed likely that March would be a particularly busy month for Borough Council and its committees.

Certainly the problems that were reaching the decision stage pointed to the fact that the regular meeting of March 8 and the special meeting of March 22 would be important ones. March actually came in "like a lion" as the four-hour agenda preparation session on the "extra" day of February 29 spilled over into March 1 (Council President Lester's birthday).

In Special Session. At the request of the Public Safety and Public Works committees, Mayor and Council met in formal session briefly to handle some important transactions. On unanimous recommendation of the Public Safety group, the appointment of a new sergeant was made and confirmed.

The promotion—off eleven March 1—meant stripes for the sleeve of Patrolman J. Danfor Hagadorn. The vacancy was created by the retirement last week of Sergeant Carl Anderson after many years of faithful service.

Certainly we all wish him many years of good health and happiness. It is good news that Carl intends to stay here in Princeton. His plans for his very first day of retirement — "not to get up at 5:30 a.m."

The appointment of Dan Hagadorn was the third to be made from lists developed after the examinations recommended in the survey of the police department. The Council also approved resolutions requesting approval for the use of state aid monies in the repaving of part of Franklin Avenue and for other Borough purposes.

More on Safety. Following last week's two and a half hour meeting of the Borough Safety Committee, the Mayor and Council anticipate a series of recommendations affecting Nassau Street and Washington Road.

Magistrate Fams, chairman of the committee, intends to convene the group for a careful review of the many suggestions presented to them last week. High on the priority list will undoubtedly be changes in lighting on Washington Road as well as some changes on parking, signs, and other engineering, enforcement and educational moves to combat the increasing pedestrian hazards in this area.

A Budget Item. The Borough budget for 1960 contains a number of items worthy of special note. One is an addition to the appropriation for the office of the assessor. It is our hope that we might be able to persuade the assessor to accept full-time responsibility for this important function.

As taxpayers are doubtless aware, the tax collector applies the same property tax rate in computing the tax bills. The key factor in determining the amount and the fairness of that bill is the assessment. This is a technical job that requires constant attention and review. Mayor and Council feel that the borough will gain from upgrading the position from its traditional part-time status.

Friday Open House. The regular weekly "Tell it to the Mayor!" sessions will be held on Friday, March 4, and Friday, March 11, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings. Again last week there were comments — pro and con — about fluoridation and about the relative merits of salt and sand in snow and ice control in Princeton.

News Of The Theatres

Annie Get Your Gun (March 7) is a bright 1950 release in color, featuring fine, singable Irving Berlin tunes like "Do! Do! What Comes Naturally" and "The Girl That I Marry." The stars are Betty Hutton, Howard Keel, Louis Calhern, Edward Arnold, J. Carroll Nash and Keenan Wynn, and George Sidney directed.

Miss Hutton, a crack shot with a rifle. Joins a Wild West show to be near Keel, who is the show's champion sharpshooter and quite a handsome rogue. She decides to work up a sharpshooting act, thinking it will impress him and make him notice her, but he of course is miffed when she turns out to be better at fancy rifle-manship than he is and he quits the show. After bolstering the show's sagging finances with $100,000 worth of medals from her European tour, Miss Hutton tries to win back Keel by purposely losing to him in a shooting match.

The story, of course, is nothing more than a frothy peg on which to hang the really stunning musical numbers. Miss Hutton is a delight and Keel, although he seems a bit too intent on projecting to the last row of the balcony, appears to be a nice enough young man. Recommended.

The Lowest Crime (March 8-12) is blackmail and this French film, with English titles, details lengthily and complicatedly the evils that befall those who perpetrate it. Featured players are Leo Genn, Magali Noel, Raymond Pellegrin, Georges Chamaraud and Noel Roquevert.

This is a courtroom drama with a twist — and Lord knows we've had enough courtroom dramas recently to deserve a twist, if not total extinction of the genre. Genn is the accused (and guilty) leader of a vicious blackmail ring and his troubles only begin when, after the first couple of reels, he is acquitted. He finds that his own feeling of responsibility to the daughter (Miss Noel) who idolizes him is more difficult to overcome than the prosecuting attorney. This relationship gives the picture more than routine interest, but the performances, while competent, are neither broad nor deep enough to take the audience beneath the surface sensationalism of the crime syndicate.

Along with "The Lowest Crime," the Garden will present "The Mischief Maker," a brief, engaging featurette by Francios Truffaut, writer and director of the widely praised "400 Blows."

It's New To Us

footstool size and progress right up to a fireside bench. It's the "mille fleur" pattern: diagonal rows of rosebuds and green leaves. Moderns may have a single centered design, like a sheaf of wheat, a fleur de lis, perhaps a lyre or a cluster of feathers. (The wide range of size applies only to the "mille fleur.")

Knitters will turn to the fine Italian, French or Swiss mohair, spun fine enough for delicate dresses and presented to the public in beautiful shades like apricot, lavender, olive or avocado.

For knitters who want good, sturdy practical yarns, the Shop has two from France and one from Scotland. Les Bouquet and La Madeleine are both weighty yarns, Madeleine being slightly heavier.

Dundee is a campus (i.e., heavy) weight in 20 Shetland colors including a good grey, a grey-green and a hot mustard. Ten percent mohair in this yarn. If you own a goat these days, you're in business.

The Case of the Wilted Card. If one of the problems you face in life is the matter of the calling card that gets mouse-eared and yellow from being carried around in your purse, LaVake-Reid has at least a partial solution.

Assuming that you carry cards in your purse so that you can slip one into a gift, LaVake-Reid offers to keep your cards for you, producing them, as needed, to enclose with each gift you buy. You are saved the trouble of remembering to carry a card and the card is saved from a rumpled fate. (Whoever receives the gift can send the card back to you, if you haven't written on it, so that you can use it again!)

The shop will also discuss with you the engraving of calling cards or personals, either on Crane stationery or any other paper. LaVake-Reid will make plates from initials or family crests, and will keep the plates for you, to use on birth announcements, wedding invitations or whatever you wish.

Now, another service offered by this shop concerns what we might call the continuing present. If you give, let us say a spoon, to a young girl for Christmas and on each birthday, you may leave with LaVake-Reid the pattern of the spoon the name of the girl and her birthday and the shop will do all the rest, hilling you for the gift-wrapped item sent in your name.

In this gift record is a tally, so that spoons will not keep pouring forth like something out of "The Sorcerer's Apprentice." If you so specify, the shop will stop sending spoons after the eighth one, and begin on salad forks, or whatever, all more or less automatically. You just set the works in motion, and LaVake-Reid does the rest.

New chess-boards in this shop look and feel like Italian marble until you start asking questions. Then the boards turn out to be of something called Renaissance vinyl tile, a name which is the most delicious anachronism of the month, in our opinion.

In any case, these are splendid boards, more like marble than marble itself, in tawny brown, green or black with white. They are half an inch thick. If you wish, you may buy them with four brushed brass legs.

owners in surrounding communities whose animals have also disappeared, it was announced this week by Mrs. Allen W. Stephens, president of the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League.

Mrs. Stephens said that the calls came from many communities in the area surrounding Princeton, including Hightstown and Somerville. The fact that none of these animals have been brought into shelters strengthens the possibility that an organized ring of thieves is operating in the area, she said.

Repeating the leagues' previous warning to pet owners to keep careful watch on their animals. Mrs. Stephens also urged that any suspicious activity, such as trucks stopping by homes in the middle of the night, be reported to local or state police. One person who called the league reported that a truck had been seen near a home between 2 and 3 a.m., she said, and that five cats were missing afterwards.

She added that she had definitely not been referring to any local breeders in her previous statement that purebred animals which are picked up are often sold to disreputable breeders. The animal theft rings, she explained, almost always carry animals long distances before selling them, and anyone to whom dogs picked up in Princeton would be sold would be located far away.

ACCIDENTS KILL TWO

Three Others Seriously Hurt. Three separate and violent automobile accidents during the past week resulted in two deaths and brought serious injury to three others. One of the injured men has been on the critical list at Princeton Hospital for the past six days and is not expected to live.

Shortly before midnight last Thursday, a car driven by Leyton Smith, 19, of Pottsville, Penna., failed to make the turn at the Kingston bridge. Striking the stone side of the structure with great force, it overturned, pinning Mr. Smith underneath.

He was taken to Princeton Hospital in the Princeton First Aid Unit ambulance after having been extricated by members of the unit and the Rescue Squad. His injuries include a fractured skull and multiple lacerations, and little hope is held for his eventual recovery.

Riding in the car, which was headed toward Kingston on Route 27, were George Nelson, 25, 25 Bank Street, and Donald O'Hara, 18, 18 Bank Street. Mr. Nelson's left leg was broken, while Mr. O'Hara suffered a concussion and lacerations of the chin and lips. Their condition was listed as serious. The car caught fire and was extinguished by the Kingston Fire Department before any of the victims was burned.

About 10:30 Saturday morning, a prospective Princeton University student was killed when his car ramed a truck on Route 1 in Plainsboro Township near the Forrester Research Laboratories. He was Michael Goodman, 17, of Hillside.

State Police said young Goodman's car swerved from the left to the right lane and crashed into the rear of a truck carrying explosive gas. The cargo did not ignite. The victim had come to Princeton University earlier in the day for an interview at the Admissions Office.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night, Pietro Havrsh, 64, of Route 27 was killed when he was struck by a car as he was crossing the highway near his home. State Police said that Havrsh had been drinking and that he walked in front of an automobile driven by Patricia Selles, 31, of Route 27.

Havrsh was taken to Princeton Hospital by the Rocky Hill First Aid Squad, where he was pronounced dead on arrival of head and chest injuries. The accident occurred north of Kingston, near Little Rocky Hill.

suffered contusions of the hip Monday when she was struck by the rear bumper of a car operated by James W. McGuire, 52, of 88 Jefferson Road.

Police said that Miss Zaeppfel, crossing Vandewater Avenue, was struck behind Mr. McGuire's car which was waiting for the traffic light to change. As she was about to step on the curb, Mr. McGuire released the brakes of his car and it rolled backwards, striking Miss Zaeppfel.

Miss Zaeppfel complained of pain in her hip and was taken to Princeton Hospital by Mr. McGuire. The hospital reports there was no fracture.

GULICK BEQUESTS LISTED
To University. The pital. Bequests totalling more than $1,000,000 have been received by Princeton University and Princeton Hospital from the late Archibald A. Gulick, it was announced this week.

The University has received approximately $700,000, part from Mr. Gulick's estate and part from a charitable foundation created during his lifetime. This is in addition to earlier gifts which totaled more than $330,000.

The hospital has been given $574,000 from the estate. John H. Wallace, Jr., president of the board of trustees, said that this is the largest single bequest the hospital has received in its 40-year history.

Dr. Robert F. Goheen, University president, said that the funds will be used for the support of dormitories in the new Undergraduate Quadrangle or for junior faculty housing, as specified under the terms of the pledges made by Mr. Gulick to the $33 Million for Princeton University capital gifts campaign.

Mr. Wallace said that no decision has yet been reached by the hospital board as to disposition of its bequest, but it is expected that the money will be used for some major aspect of the hospital's expansion in the next 10 years.

FLUORIDATION ENDORSED

By Township Health Board. Fluoridation of Princeton's water supply was endorsed by the Princeton Township Board of Health at its monthly meeting last Wednesday. The board also decided to send a letter to the Township Committee stating its position on the issue. The letter is due to be read at the next Township Committee meeting, scheduled for Monday evening.

Four members of the board voted in favor of fluoridation and one abstained. Those in favor were Dr. Archibald Sheeran, chairman; Dr. Erling Dorf, Dr. William Kleinberg and William W. Marvel. Mrs. Robert G. McAllen abstained, saying that she was neither in favor of fluoridation nor against it, but felt she didn't know enough about the subject to vote on it.

The discussion was a quiet one, with only two persons present to talk on the fluoridation issue. They were Mrs. Sterling Anders of 601 Lake Drive, who opposed it, and Dr. Benjamin Shimberg of 28 Cuyler Road, who was in favor of it.

Mrs. Anders urged that the board consider alternative proposals, such as the distribution of fluoride tablets, which has been adopted by Clifton, N. J.

Mass Medication? Describing fluoridation as "mass medication," Mrs. Anders said: "I'm against compulsory medicine. I don't want to have something put in my water, something which I don't want but that I must accept." She added that she was a Christian Scientist.

In reply to her statement on mass medication, Dr. Sheeran said: "It depends on your point of view. Chlorine is used to prevent typhoid fever. Fluorides act to prevent dental caries."

An analysis of the Township water, showing that it already contains a small amount of fluorides, was distributed to members of the board by Dr. Kleinberg. He also said that we already get a small amount of fluoride from other sources, such as meat. Mrs. Anders asked if this were calcium fluoride or sodium fluoride. "It doesn't make any difference," Dr. Kleinberg replied. "Sodium fluoride is more soluble, that's all."

Dr. Shimberg described fluoride as "a trace element in human nutrition," and said: "Some water has more, some has less. It's a matter of bringing the amount of fluoride in our water up to the proper level." He also said that he felt that alternative methods, such as distribution of pills, would only work for a "selected, highly-motivated group," and that many children who could benefit from fluoride would not get it under such methods.

Dr. Kleinberg and Dr. Shimberg both said that they had given fluorides to their children for several years, and that their children had no cavities in their teeth.

WHAT'S ON THE AGENDA?

In Borough. A ten-item agenda will occupy members of Borough Council Tuesday night. Public hearings will be held on the 1960 budget, the salary ordinance, amendments to parking and traffic ordinances, amendments to the parking meter ordinance and the resolution asking the state for permission to ban U-turns on Nassau Street.

The agenda will also include

Degree for Adenauer

Dr. Konrad Adenauer, Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, will be awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws by Princeton University at a special convocation in the University Chapel on Monday, March 14.

Dr. Adenauer will be in Princeton to open the conference devoted to "Germany: Problems and Prospects" which will be held on the campus. (For details, see "Man of the Week.")

Tickets to the convocation will be available to residents of the Princeton community, with further information available next week. The ceremony honoring the 84-year old West German leader will begin at 7:45 p.m. action on a tabled ordinance concerning liquor licenses and action on the Board of Health's fluoridation request. Possible items include the introduction of an ordinance to extend Prospect Street and action on the Housing Authority's request for advice on alternate public housing sites. Appointments to Borough boards, including the replacement of Carl Schafer on the Housing Authority, may also be considered.

To Township. When Township Committee meets Monday night, its members will receive a resolution from Borough Council approving the eight-point housing program submitted to the Borough in December.

Committee will also receive the Township Zoning Board's recommendation to grant a variance so that the University may build its junior faculty apartments on the north shore of Lake Carnegie.

An ordinance to vacate parts of the temporary turn-arounds on Walnut and Dempsey will be introduced and so, possibly, will be an ordinance to accept Ridgeview Circle. Reports on the sewer situation on Galbreath Drive East, Snowden Lane and Roper Road will also be presented.

CELEBRATIONS PLANNED

For Girl Scout Birthday. A series of celebrations will be staged next week by Princeton Girl Scouts in honor of the 48th birthday of national organization. It was announced by Mrs. Rosamund Hackley, president of Princeton Girl Scout Council. Theme of the celebration, which is being observed nationally, is "Honor the Past — Serve the Future."

Girl Scouts in uniform will attend services this Sunday at the church of their choice. "Open House" will be held Monday through Friday at Girl Scout Headquarters, 4 Green Street. A special feature arranged by Mrs. Leslie L. Vivian, Jr., program chairman, will be afternoon visits to the headquarters by representatives of foreign countries.

Brownie Troop 11, led by Mrs. R. G. Witter and Mrs. J. E. Cornell, will present a play Thursday, March 10, at 3 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church. The troop will use drums, tambourines and maracas which they have made.

The Neighborhood Troops of West Windsor Township, members of the Princeton Girl Scout Council, have planned a joint troop rally next Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:45 at the Dutch Neck Firehouse. Color slides of Alaska will be shown by the Rev. Robert Good, pastor of Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church, and five-year pins will be presented.

BOROUGH COURT ACTION

Six Pay Fines. Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams fined John A. Paglione, 50, of 70 Spruce Street $30 and J.R. Garcia, 18, of the Pennington School, $25 for speeding in Monday's traffic court.

In other violations, James B. Lindren, 19, of 357 Nassau Street, was fined $20 for careless driving and Clarence DiDonato, 19, of 27 Harris Road, $15 for improper passing. For driving a car with an overdue inspection tag, Walter D. Bannard, 25, of 39 Patmer Square paid a $15 fine and Mrs. Anne Morel, 40, of 78 Epsteen Drive also paid $15 for driving with expired registration plates.

In the only criminal court case, Stephan Koltun, 42, of 200 Nassau Street was fined $25 for being drunk and disorderly. Brought to police headquarters for fighting, Koltun created such a disturbance that the police charged him with disorderly conduct.

SOMETHING TO SMILE ABOUT: Looking very happy about the pins awarded them by Princeton Hospital in recognition of a decade of service apiece are (left to right) Mrs. Leo McCluskey, night supervisor; Felix Rossi, fireman, and Miss Patricia Potts, assistant director of nursing service. The ten-year pins were presented at hospital's annual meeting Monday night. Mrs. McCluskey joined staff in 1949, and Miss Potts came in February, 1950. Mr. Rossi, previously on the staff from 1935 to 1948, took a year's leave of absence to bring his family from Italy to America and then returned to the hospital in November, 1949. ### "GOOD THINGS HAPPEN"

Theme of Red Cross Drive. The 1960 Red Cross campaign which began this week in the Princeton area will continue for the rest of March under the slogan "Good Things Happen When You Give." The Princeton Chapter, oldest in New Jersey having celebrated its 45th anniversary last September, is setting a goal of $43,500.

This year's slogan is indicative of the real meaning behind the Red Cross. To the more than 400 volunteer workers it means giving their time to help their neighbors. To others, it is gratitude for help in time of disaster, or an opportunity to help others through special courses.

PTA MEETING TUESDAY

To Launch Annual Book Fair. Professor E. Dudley H. Johnson, of the University English department, will lecture on "The Lost Art of Reading Aloud" at the meeting of the Princeton Borough PTA Tuesday at 8:15 in the Nassau Street School. The meeting will also officially begin the annual Book Fair, set for Monday through Friday at the Witherspoon and Nassau Street schools.

The books, provided by Ralph Shadowitz and Irving Potts of the Princeton Book Mart, will represent the best available in children's reading. The sale begins in the Witherspoon School library on Monday, and in the Nassau Street School auditorium on Tuesday, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Fifteen percent of the profits will go to the PTA.

Orders for books will be paid for at the time of purchase, and they will be available at the Book Mart two weeks later, although some will be ready immediately. Co-chairmen for the Book Fair are Mrs. Frank Vornacka and Mrs. Humboldt Levenenz, for the Witherspoon School; and Mrs. Sheldon S. Judson, Mrs. Charles T. Davis and Mrs. Stanley Stein, for the Nassau Street School.

Committee members include Mrs. Lewis Bain, Mrs. John M. Brown, Mrs. J. A. Buckland, Mrs. Donald Carroll, Mrs. Robert H. Dicke, Mrs. Vincent Fasanello, Mrs. John J. Fischer, Mrs. Fred Harbison, Mrs. Ralph D. Hullit, Mrs. Simeon Humer, Mrs. Robert A. Lively, Mrs. Norman Mather, Mrs. Barclay Rosser, Mrs. Robert Schmidt, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. Walter Wagener, Mrs. J. W. Ward, Mrs. Harvey Winthrop and Mrs. James White.

MRS. BONIN CHOSEN

B'nai B'rith Donor Chairman. Mrs. Alvin Bonin, 297 Exwing Street, has been elected Donor Chairman of the B'nai B'rith Women, Princeton Chapter. With other members of the chapter, she will attend the Donor Luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York, next Sunday.

The theme of the luncheon will be "And Thou Shalt Grow With B'nai B'rith," and will feature stars of television, radio and movies. Mrs. Herbert Hausman, president of the Northern New Jersey Council, will deliver the keynote address of the afternoon before more than a thousand guests.

Mrs. Alfred Bernhardt, 27 West Marion Road, is fund raising chairman of the local chapter. Members of the Donor committee also include Mrs. Maurice Glicksman, raffles, and Mrs. Manfred Rost, merchandise club chairman.

TILTON TO LECTURE

To Women's College Club. John K. Tilton, Director of the Scalapandri Museum of Textiles in New York, will give an illustrated lecture on an "Historic Tour of the National Shines of America" at the meeting of the Women's College Club Monday at 3 in the Present Day Club.

A member of the American Institute of Decorators, the American Museum Association and the National Society of Interior Design, Mr. Tilton is in charge of the selection of textiles which are used in restorations of American national shrines. He has studied architecture and interior design at Columbia University, Pratt Institute and in Europe.

HEADMASTER WILL SPEAK

At St. Paul's PTA Meeting. Colonel Joseph Donohue, assistant Headmaster of Hun School and former professor at West Point, will speak at the monthly meeting of the St. Paul's PTA, Tuesday evening at 8 in the school auditorium.

Hostesses for the evening include Mrs. Robert Bancroft, Mrs. Charles Milacki, Mrs. Joseph Killelea and Mrs. Romeo Favreau.

DAY CAMP TO CONTINUE

Under New Name, Owners. Camp Arrowhead, a day camp for boys between the ages of 7 - 12 has been organized by Anthony Borzok and Richard Borger, teachers at Princeton High School.

The new camp will fill the need created by the closing of Camp Tomahawk. It is planned to operate Camp Arrowhead at the Squatters' Club on Quaker Road, the same location used by Camp Tomahawk for the past 12 years.

BIRTH LIST

Hospital Has 17 Arrivals. A total of 17 children, nine of them boys, was born to Princeton area residents in Princeton Hospital last week. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Carsten Paulsen, Sunset Hill Gardens; Mr. and Mrs. Alan MacDonald, 5 N. Main Street, Cranbury; Mr. and Mrs. Kimberly Sparks, 220-A Harrison Street; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burke, Forsgate Country Club, Jamesburg, all on February 22.

Other parents of boys included Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mahoney, 24 Hodge Road, Franklin Park, February 24; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Le Prevost, Bear Brook Road, Princeton Junction, February 25; Mr. and Mrs. John Raduzkyld, Ridge Road, Monmouth Junction, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leibler, 422 Terhune Road, both on February 26; and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Watson, 41 Stockton Road, Franklin Park, February 27.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cornell, Mayfarth Terrace, Plainsboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Michel Balinski, "Mansgrove," both on February 23; and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Light, Cherry Valley Road, February 25.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Quimby, Ridge Road, Monmouth Junction and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, 47 University Place, both on February 26; and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hubel, 8 Valley Road; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Steep, Blackwell Road, Pennington; and Mr. and Mrs. John Gosda, Box

118, Rocky Hill, all on February 27.

AUDIT: PART II

Employment of Negroes. In its second "Community Audit," the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom presented on Wednesday night a report on the employment situation for Negroes in the Princeton community.

Using a survey made by the Intergroup Relations Committee of the Council of Community Services, Mrs. John V. A. Fine, chairman of the Committee, gave Wednesday's audience the results obtained from 104 questionnaires which had been returned to the committee from 413 sent out.

The business firms represented covered organizations with more than six employees. The largest ones had more than 500 employees. Firms with fewer than six employees are not covered by New Jersey's anti-discrimination law.

Of the firms that replied, 68 percent said they would be glad to hire capable Negroes. Six percent said they did not want to "experiment," five percent said they would hire Negroes only for manual or semi-skilled labor, and seven percent said they saw no point in changing a policy of not hiring Negroes.

Eighteen percent of the business organizations said that no Negro had ever applied to them for work. Five percent said that no suitable Negroes had ever been found. Two percent said they would definitely prefer not to hire Negroes.

The owner of one women's specialty shop said she would be glad to hire a Negro salesgirl, but that none had ever applied.

"Many of our most capable people are Negro, and we will continue our policy of hiring them indefinitely," was one comment.

CHOICE OFFERED

Jail or Quit Driving. Bernard D. DeVido, 19, of the Brunswick Pike must decide whether he would rather spend 30 days in jail or have his driver's license suspended for 60 days.

The chance to choose was of.

HADASSAH PLANS DINNER

To Aid Medical Center. Under the guidance of its vice-president, Mrs. Robert Sauber, the Princeton Chapter of Hadassah is planning a donor dinner dance to be held at the Princeton Jewish Center April 2. Proceeds are for the benefit of the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center near Jerusalem, Israel.

In addition, a raffle is being offered of a week for two at the Casablanca Hotel in Miami Beach with air passage included. The trip was arranged by Mrs. Milton Horowitz, chairman of the raffle committee. Assisting Mrs. Horowitz are Mrs. Howard Spector, Mrs. Harold Staras, Mrs. Seymour Bogdonoff, Mrs. Bernard Fishbein, Mrs. Thomas Stix, Mrs. Irving Rabinowitz, and Mrs. Jay Brandinger.

Mrs. Norman Denard is program committee chairman for the dance and is being assisted by Mrs. Irving Glassman, Mrs. Sidney Sternberg, Mrs. Sux, Mrs. Brandinger and Mrs. Staras. Mrs. Nathan Kasel is in charge of decorations.

LUNCH-HOUR PROGRAMS

Offered at Public Library. The Princeton Public Library plans to inaugurate a series of weekly lunch-hour (12:30) record concerts and book reviews. New recordings will be played every Wednesday except the third week, when there will be a review of new books.

Next Wednesday, the program will be the first of two orchestral suites of Johann Sebastian Bach. The concerts and the reviews will be held in the periodical room on the first floor.

The first book review will be March 23 when John O'Hara's new book, "Ourselves to Know," will be discussed. The library is obtaining extra rental copies of O'Hara's book so that those interested will be able to read the novel before the 23rd.

DANCE RECITAL SET

For Friday, March 18. The 12th annual dance recital of the Peggy Bayer Callaway School of Dance will be held Friday, March 18, at 8 p.m. at Princeton Country Day School. Tickets, at $1 each, are now on sale at the University Store and Hinkson's, and all proceeds will go to the Heart Fund.

About 100 children from Princeton, Pennington and Hopewell will participate. Included will be ballet and tap dancing, as well as an exhibition tango and polka. Choreography is by Mrs. Callaway. Mrs. Robert F. Montgomery is production manager and Dick Swinnerton will state a gymnastic demonstration.

STATE'S TAX STRUCTURE DEBATED: Mrs. Melvin B. Gottlieb (left) and Mrs. Paul Bortell, Jr. both feel that the tax burden in New Jersey is inequitable and that to keep the state's budget balanced (required by law) another tax must be levied. For their and other opinions on adding a new state tax, which most residents feel is inevitable, see below. (Staff Photo.)

Question of the Week

Question: Property and industrial taxes in New Jersey are very high. Do you think New Jersey needs a new state tax in order to shift the tax burden to a fairer base? If so would you be in favor of a state sales tax or state income tax?

(Suggested by Mrs. David J. Brodsky, 91 Linden Lane.)
Where asked: At the Princeton Post Office.

Joseph C. Bradshaw, 47 Locust Lane, administrator for Princeton University: Frankly, no. I don't think they need a new tax in New Jersey. I just came from a small town in Pennsylvania which in addition to a state sales tax had a local tax. I would rather see just one good tax base so you know what you are paying rather than a lot of little taxes.

Dr. Orion C. Hopper, 206 Red Hill Road, alumni secretary and director of placement bureau, Princeton Seminary: I appreciate very much the way Governor Meyner has been trying to avoid levying any additional state taxes, but I am concerned about the constant increase in taxes in the Township. My property taxes have increased about $300 in seven years and I understand taxes have been raised again both in the Township and the Borough. If a state sales tax would cause property taxes to be lowered, I would be all for it but how many times have you heard of them lowering a tax? And who wants to follow New York State with an income tax and a sales tax in addition to federal taxes?

Mrs. Arthur Benson, 262 Moore Street, housewife: As a property owner, I strongly favor a state income tax. I think an income tax is fairer and it hits where the money is. With a sales tax people are forced to buy whether they have the money or not. One shouldn't have to go into debt to buy the essentials of life. I imagine there are some people who are that badly off that a sales tax would make a difference.

Edward Ridgeway, 345 Witherspoon Street, salesman: No. I think it is possible for the state to revise its present structure of taxation and to make it more equitable without adding any new taxes. A sales tax and an income tax are based primarily on taking money from the small wage earner—which is O.K.—but I think the state could do a lot better by going where the big money is.

Mrs. Roger Olden, 172 Red Hill Road, housewife: I'd just as soon the state leave things the way they are. Property is an index of one's assets, so everybody is being taxed fairly in proportion to his income and wealth. A rich man pays more than a poor man. With a sales tax, everyone, rich and poor, pays the same. I feel the present property tax and state tax structure is fair as it stands.

Peter Lippman, 201 Moore Street, steward at the graduate college: Well, yes, I think they could use a new tax. I'd be more in favor of a state income tax than a sales tax. An income tax would be levied on a person's earnings which would make it equal for all.

A sales tax usually hits the ones that can't afford it.

Mrs. J. Seth Cruice, Province Line Road, housewife: I guess I'm in favor of a new tax and I'd be in favor of a sales tax over an income tax. Income taxes are high enough. A sales tax seems to me to be the most equal way of raising more money.

Stuart Foote, Rocky Hill, associated with Project Matterhorn: As a new resident of New Jersey, I don't feel qualified to answer the first part. On the second part I would prefer to see a sales tax. I feel that a income tax is somewhat discriminatory in that it usually tends to penalize people who are already heavily taxed on properties.

William Sylvester, Dayton, route man for Rockwood Dairy: There definitely is an unfair tax situation in New Jersey, especially around Princeton. Some people's properties are valued much more than they could ever get for them. If another tax would equalize things, I think it should be added. An income tax would be better because everybody is included. In a sales tax, everybody doesn't necessarily buy things that are taxed.

George Kirby, Laurel Avenue, Kingston, foreman of Princeton University's mail department: The state could use something that would do away with its depending too much on property taxes. I think that people who rent should be forced to pay some of the school tax. Why should they get away from paying? I'd like to see them do away with the property tax altogether and put in a sales tax. That way everybody would be paying equally for schools. I wouldn't care to see a state income tax.

Miss Ellen Wood, 34 Rollingmeade: I certainly do feel the state needs a new tax. I favor a sales tax because then everybody is involved, everybody shares the burden—which is the way it should be. The rich and the poor are all responsible for the betterment of the state.

William Thompson, 525 Mercer Road, associated with an architectural firm: I would be in favor of a state sales tax on certain items which would not penalize the lower income groups. Food and necessary commodities should be excluded. I'm against a state income tax. Real estate taxes in Princeton are high enough.

Mrs. Samuel Shellabarger, 107 Library Place: I think we should have a state sales tax. It is the fairest type. Most every other state has it. New Jersey is going to have to get some more money somewhere. What we need is a national lottery. Even state lotteries if necessary. I feel it is silly that they are fighting lotteries. Millions of dollars go out of this country to Ireland and other countries which sponsor lotteries. They gamble here in this country and all the money goes to gamblers. They should legalize everything. It could be done in such a way that nobody would be hurt.

LANGROCK MOVES

Right Next Door. Langrock Princeton is in a new and larger location this week, at 42 Nassau Street. The site, tenanted for two decades by the Public Service Electric and Gas Company, is next door to the 40 Nassau Street address which served as the clothing firm's headquarters for 34 years.

Much time and effort were spent in creating the desired Tudor atmosphere for Langrock's new location. Books, prints and photographs of English, Scottish and Flemish castles were consulted, and much of the necessary material was then imported from Great Britain.

This included oak for the fixtures and furniture, as well as stained glass for the windows. Chandeliers were hand-wrought to add to the atmosphere.

In addition to providing a wider selection of men's wear, Langrock has added a special section for women's apparel. Included are materials specially imported for jackets and skirts.

Women's wear will also feature imported rainwear, sweaters, shirts and so forth. Sports wear will be created from fabrics originating in India, Thailand, Java, Switzerland, Scotland and Denmark.

Founded in 1896, Langrock has been on the Princeton scene since 1922. Its original location was in 20 Nassau Street as one of the first tenants of that building, and the move to 40 Nassau was made in 1926.

WILLIAMS IS CONSULTANT

For Chamber of Commerce. John C. Williams of 120 Winant Road has been named executive consultant of the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce, it was announced this week by Ralph S. Mason, president. Mr. Mason said that Mr. Williams' decision is adding greatly to the drive to introduce and expand the Princeton Chamber of Commerce.

Formerly president of L. Bamberger & Co. in Newark, Mr. Williams has been serving since 1958 as senior vice president for development of Fuller & Smith & Ross, national advertising agency. He has left that post in order to work closer to his home in Princeton.

In accepting the Princeton assignment on a consultant basis, Mr. Williams emphasized that his interest in the new Chamber of Commerce stems from his long Princeton residence, his association with the university as a graduate and as a trustee, and his belief in the future growth of the Princeton community.

Mr. Williams was graduated from Princeton University in 1925 and has been a trustee for many years. He served two years as president of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce and remains as director. He has also held directorships on the boards of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., the Fidelity Union Trust Co. and L. Bamberger & Co., and is now a director of the Fireman's Insurance Co. and the Princeton Inn.

Mr. Williams was named Newark's Outstanding Citizen for 1946 by the Advertising Club of New Jersey. He was also cited as the New Jersey Business Statesman of the year for 1953 by the Sales Executives Club of Northern New Jersey.

CAPITAL STOCK SOLD

By Princetownville Park Corp. Princetownville Research Park Corporation has sold 80 percent of its outstanding capital stock to the Townsend Corporation of America, it was announced this week. Morris M. Townsend of Short Hills, president of the Townsend Corp., said that his organization plans to develop the Princetownville research area tracts and also to acquire other real estate properties.

The purchase was effected for 48-353 shares of Townsend Corp.'s common stock, based on a valuation of $17 a share, making the purchase price approximately $822,000. The securities have been deposited at the Princeton Bank and Trust Company and the closing will be held there on March 31.

Princetownville Research Park Corp. owns 476 acres of land near Route 27 between U.S. 1 and U.S. 206. The property straddles Princeton Pike and includes more than two miles of road frontage on Princeton Pike, Lewisville Road, Franklin Corner Road and the new Freeway on N.J. Route 129 which is now under construction.

The property itself and the surrounding area have been zoned for research, affording future occupants protection from adverse neighboring developments.

K. R. ROCK PROMOTED

By Johnson & Johnson Robert B. Rock, Jr., of 108 Riverdale Drive East, has been named assistant vice president of Hospital and Professional Products by Johnson & Johnson International. Formerly assistant vice president of marketing for the international company, Mr. Rock will now serve as liaison between the home office and various Johnson & Johnson companies overseas.

A graduate of Princeton University, Mr. Rock served as a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy and joined Johnson & Johnson in 1956. He is a member of the Board of Governors of Princeton Tower Club, a member of the executive council of the Friends of Princeton University Library, and a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church. He is married and has two children.

Mrs. Robert Fletcher, 422 Terhune Road, housewife: I haven't given it any thought. We just moved here from Maryland which has a sales tax and we're thrilled to live in a state which doesn't. It's wonderful not to have to fish around for extra pennies anymore. If I had to choose between a sales and an income tax, I guess I would pick a sales tax. You don't miss it so much when you pay a sales tax.

Mrs. Paul Boriell, Jr., 126 Valley Road, housewife: If we are to continue balancing the state budget by using our reserve funds, we must rebuild the reserve somehow. I favor a graduated personal net income tax because it is fair and places no extra burden on any particular group of taxpayers; because it is easily collectable, and because it is least open to malfeasance. Such a broad tax base would produce enough additional income to the state so that a few inadequacies in the departments of welfare, institutions and education (to name just a few) could be corrected.

Mrs. Melvin B. Gottlieb, 83 Randome Road, housewife: Yes, I certainly do think that New Jersey needs a new tax. It was obvious from the Governor's last budget message that there are urgent needs in almost every area of our state government: higher salaries for college teachers, more road-building, an institution for the severely retarded, to name just a few, which are not even included in the budget because the state just doesn't have the money. Our surplus has dwindled to almost nothing, our local property taxes are already increasing by more than $60 million a year, and adding to existing excise taxes will not meet our needs. I believe that a graduated personal net income tax is the best way to solve our problems. It distributes equitably the burden of government more than any other tax. It is the tax most closely related to the individual's ability to pay.

Bath Salts Preferred.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

If the Princeton Water Company falls for this incredible fluoridation bonanza, I am going to demand that every morning between 7 and 8 (between 9 and 10 on Sundays) bath salts be added to the local water supply.

There must be dozens of people in Princeton who would enjoy this fragrant addition to the pleasures of their morning ablutions, but are denied it because they prefer to take a shower rather than a sitz-bath. The objection that this would cost a couple of hundred thousand dollars a year and rot the water pipes, and that the operation would be about 98 percent inefficient, can be brushed aside.

These are times of unexampled prosperity, and in line with the national trend, I feel that the adult population deserves to be pampered as well as the kiddies. If there are some surprises who do not like bath salts in their bathing water, let them buy bottled water.

Fluoridation Favored.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

It might be of interest to the people of Princeton to know that in addition to endorsements of fluoridation by various organizations such as The American Medical Association and the American Dental Association, fluoridation has the support of Dr. Benjamin Spock, whose interest in the welfare of children is beyond question. Dr. Spock heads the Committee to Protect our Children's Teeth which is working for fluoridation in New York City.

Studies have shown that fluorine is a natural ingredient in human nutrition, and when it is not present in sufficient quantities, decay in teeth occurs. As to the opposition to fluoridation, it might be well to remember that vaccination against smallpox had many opponents when it was first introduced. There are always those who resist change, and view any innovations with alarm, even those which benefit mankind.

I urge the Princeton community, both borough and township, to "Protect our Children's Teeth!"

GLORIA H. MICHAEL

267 Hamilton Avenue.

Fluoridation Opposed.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I wonder what those who are in favor of fluoridation of our water have to say about this startling fact. There is a direct relationship between the amount of fluorides, either natural or added, and the amount of Mongolian idiosyncrasy in the population consuming the water.

This was proved in a study done at the University of Wisconsin. The research was published in a French medical journal because the American Medical Association and the American Dental Association would not allow it to be published in this country.

It is also a fact that when the negative effects of fluoridation are provable in a court of law, all those endorsing the addition can be held responsible for the injuries which have occurred.

The idea that any of our daughters born or unborn should ever hear a Mongoloid child needlessly seems too great a price to pay for a few teeth. Our teeth are going to be most affected by the ridiculous amount of white sugar our population eats—no matter how much fluorine is added to the water!

SHARON D. HOFFMAN
(Mrs. Lanny L. Hoffman)

257 Nassau Street.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: According to the U.S. Public Health Service, the study to which Mrs. Hoffman refers was re-examined by the British Ministry of Health whose findings did not confirm those of the study. "It is pertinent to stress that the incidence of Mongolism is not well indicated merely from the numbers in institutions, at least in England," the Ministry's report stated. The research in Wisconsin, says the U.S. Health Service, was done solely in institutions where Mongoloids are housed. The British study encompassed the total populations in fluoride and non-fluoride areas.

Actions to stop fluoridation have been instituted in the highest courts of some 13 states, and in every instance the courts have upheld the legality of fluoridation. The U.S. Supreme Court has refused to review the state court decisions for lack of a substantial Federal issue.)

Against Compulsion.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

It is obvious that there are valid pros and cons as regards the benefits of fluorine. There are those who say, let the majority decide whether it should be put in the public water supply. Historically speaking, Americans are long-time, willing subscribers to noble experiments.

But in this case, were fluorine put in the public water supply, every one would have to take it whether they agreed or not—the only alternative would be to supply your own drinking and cooking water. This puts a different complexion on the issue.

While it may be clear that the teeth from ages 1 to 6 will be helped, it is not clear what the accumulation of fluorine for the next 60 odd years will do. In fact, in the brief "less than a decade" of artificial fluoridation there are many distinct and definite cases where damage has been done to adults. To aid the dental problems of the very young, it is not necessary that everyone else be compelled to run some known risks and who knows what unknown risks when the results of six decades of accumulated fluorine are recorded.

The real issue is this: Public Health is not a suitable field for COMPULSORY EXPERIMENTATION. As yet there is not sufficient evidence to justify this mass medication as being definitely harmless to all ages. This is not a disaster problem. Let the community supply fluorine "mixers" to all those who want to use it until such time that more is known about its total effects.

RICHARD F. VAUGHAN

44 Princeton Ave.

Danger on Washington Road.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:
Your report of the meeting of the Borough's Traffic Safety Council should awaken a feeling of fear in thoughtful Princetonians, "Town and Gown" alike. Let the engineers make the decisions instead of merely recommending possible alternatives. Engineers, like scientists, are trained to think in coldly analytical and objective terms.

The human elements of will and emotion are purposely excluded from their calculations. This is probably as it should be, but it is for that very reason that non-engineers and non-scientists should decide how much or how little to use science and engineering.—Continued on Page 20

"How come telephone men
all wear glasses, Mister?"

Pretty observant young man! Yes, all telephone men who work with tools do wear glasses. The reason is safety—protection on the job.

In everything telephone people do, safety is constantly emphasized. Wherever telephone people work, you'll see this sign: "No job is so important and no service is so urgent—that we cannot take time to perform our work safely."

Safety helps make the Telephone Company a good place to work. Protects telephone people and the public. Increases our efficiency in serving you.

Last year—if you'll pardon a little pride—another safety record was set at New Jersey Bell. And lost time from accidents was reduced for the fourth straight year.

ing in matters effecting the way we live.

That's why I'm frightened when I read that Chief Traffic Engineer Klar says, "Let's have an engineering solution," and Traffic Engineer Malone says, "Let's use Nassau for what it was designed for: the movement of traffic."

These statements alone would be no cause for concern were it not for the other statements attributed to these gentlemen. Mr. Klar wants Washington Road made into a 50-foot, four-lane street (it is now about 30 feet.)

What would this "engineering solution" do?

It would require a 20-foot expansion which, because of the proximity of existing buildings which can't be moved, would probably have to be a top-foot slice on both sides of the present roadway. This will take down all the trees on the west side, and many on the east side of the road throughout the length of the main campus.

It would put the University buildings ten feet closer to traffic than they now are. Already it is becoming most difficult to conduct lectures and classes in these buildings so that this "engineering solution" would not only very materially diminish the beauty and charm of the town and the University, it would most seriously damage the University's "business" which is study and learning.

What of Mr. Malone's "engineering solution" for Nassau Street?

Perhaps some of his suggestions would be beneficial, but if their object is also merely to speed a greater flow of vehicular traffic I would seriously question these also. First, pedestrians are also "traffic" and they too have rights as well as desires. Not the least of these is to be allowed to enjoy the serenity of a university town in relative peace and quiet. There is no peace and quiet on the verges of a main highway, and there will be no serene university town if Nassau is made into a main highway.

And one last thought, Mr. Malone is concerned that drivers on Nassau may not see "where they are going." This is an engineer's lack of the understanding of the human element. I would wager that many people on Nassau, both drivers and pedestrians, are there not because of where they are "going," but because they want to be "there." And there is still pleasure to be derived from being where you want to be in a few towns in the United States, though the pressures of society, including the engineers, are making this as difficult as possible.

Let's be stubborn and "backward." Let's keep this oasis of beauty and calm in a state which is rapidly becoming a combination through highway and tradesman's entrance for the two metropolitan areas between which it is squeezed.

R. W. VAN DE VELDE
67 Olden Avenue.

For Laymen, Not Experts.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

The letter which you published in your issue of February 28-March 5, from a former member of the staff of the U. S. Public Health Service, presents what is to be expected if one considers that the compulsory fluoridation plague originated in the Public Health Service. Of course, the fraternity must stick together and make every possible use of the thought-control system against those who seem to threaten the dictatorship propensities so frequently manifested by so-called health authorities.

But the fact remains that citation of one so-called expert by another cannot be impressive when the problem has been created by these experts and the confusion is their responsibility. What this statement really means is that the people of Princeton should not do any thinking on this subject, but should leave the thinking to so-called experts.

The question confronting Princeton is a question for laymen, not for experts. Simply stated, it is whether the people want PURE water, or water that is doped with an additive in the form of sodium fluoride which is commonly used for rat poison.

It probably is true that one can find specialists on every side of most questions; can find dentists who do not agree with the Dental Association, doctors who do not agree with the AMA, and so on. But after listening to many of them, a citizen has to make up his mind as to whether he wants questionable medication rammed down his throat and perhaps without his knowledge.

The Public Health Service is not a good authority to cite for anything just now. In its excesses of zeal it played a prominent part in the cranberry, chicken and lipstick fiascos.

Although it now seems to be against additives in general, it takes the opposite position in the case of fluoridation. No matter how many bureaucrats or alleged experts may be cited in the government, professional associations, or otherwise, the question is still one for the elementary common sense of the citizens.

The proposal in the guise of reducing dental caries in youngsters up to the age of 12 or thereabouts (not more than 15 percent of the population), is that the other 85 percent are to be subjected to compulsory medication.

Also for the same reason, 100 percent of the city water is to be doped when, as a rule, but 1 1/2 percent of it is used for drinking purposes, according to the recent reports on Clifton, New Jersey.

Despite this tumult and shouting of the so-called experts, there is still no persuasive evidence that the cumulative effect of rat poison in city water will not be adverse. Particularly is this the case when it is obvious that the cumulative effects of fluorides in the human body may not be known or discovered for years. To have real data it would be necessary to run controlled tests for from 40 to 60 years at least. So we are asked to take second-hand thinking and not do our own . . .

I can see that it might not be difficult to brainwash parents who have insufficient knowledge of correct diet to control their own children's development. Some might seek an escape from their responsibility and try to unload it on the community notwithstanding side-by-side studies in cities which showed that more might be accomplished in combating the development of faulty teeth by correct diet than by fluoridation.

I am not interested in anything in the nature of refereeing a bout between various experts involved in the technical aspects of this question. From my point of view, the issue is one of public policy and responsible leadership. It calls for just plain common sense. I observe many differences and even if I were to agree with the proponents as to the effects of fluoridation, I would still be against compulsory fluoridation as a matter of public policy.

I think the time has come when the layman should stop lying down and rolling over whenever so-called experts or lobbies of their fellow travelers snap their fingers.

MUSIC In Princeton

WEAVERS WELL RECEIVED

In McCarter Program. The popularity of folk songs and singers among those of the college age has increased by leaps and bounds over the past several years—and the huge attendance and box-office clamorings at the program given by The Weavers on Friday evening in McCarter Theatre was proof positive that folk music, even in an educated society, is anything but an obsolete art form. The same quartet sang again Saturday in an appearance that had been sold out for almost a month.

As is true on the level of genuine, "untutored" folk singers, people to whom the folk song is a part of everyday life—a simple expression of their deepest personal experiences and emotions—the types and talents of "commercial" folk-singers are greatly varied. Through vivid imagination and sensitivity, a rare few capture and project the essence of a folk song; others—the great majority—often use a folk song as the basis for an "arrangement", which, within the framework of today's popular music, can rob the song of its originally unspiced quality. The Weavers lean heavily toward the latter category, although, through the addition of a number of interesting foreign songs to their repertoire, they have enough varied material at their disposal to avoid somewhat the "tin-pan alley" label.

Comprised of three men and a woman, The Weavers are accompanied by banjo and guitar, quite aptly played by two members of the quartet. Their singing is strictly stylized through their type of harmony, and the sound they produce is similar to that of the numerous trios, quartets and the like, currently in the spotlight of popular vocal music. For this reason, it seems inaccurate to categorize The Weavers as folk-singers, in a fairly literal sense of the term.

For the most part, the group's program consisted of songs which were probably unfamiliar to most, including, among others, folk songs of Israel, Spain, Peru, and, of course, of various regions of the United States. Informality was, appropriately enough, the order of the evening, with much on-stage chatter and some (not quite enough) audience participation in the singing. All in all, it was a rousing evening, and a not-unpleasant one. The Weavers performed with energetic verve, and the audience responded in kind.

TURECK WILL PLAY

In Series II Concert, Rosalyn Tureck, one of the world's leading interpreters of the music of Bach, will give an all-Bach recital Monday at 8:30 in McCarter Theater. This is the fourth concert in the Princeton University Concert Series II.

WILL PLAY BACH: Rosalyn Tureck, who has achieved a reputation as one of the leading interpreters of Bach, will play Monday in McCarter.

Although she gave recitals devoted to Bach when she was only 15, Miss Tureck was not allowed by her family to become a "child prodigy". She studied at the Juilliard School of Music, was graduated cum laude, and later joined the School's faculty.

In 1955, she went one tour of Europe which was intended to last only five months but her success was so immediate that she remained for over three years. Returning to the United States in November, 1958, she appeared as soloist and as the first woman conductor of the New York Philharmonic.

For her Princeton recital, Miss Tureck has chosen four preludes and fugues from Book II of the Well-Tempered Clavier: G minor, C sharp major, F minor and A minor; the Partita No. 2 in C Minor; two Minuets, one in G major and one in G minor, and two marches, one in D major and one in E flat major from the Klavierbuchlein of Anna Magdalena Bach and the Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in D Major.

MOZART WORK TO BE SUNG

By Amateurs. Mozart's Requiem will be sung this Sunday afternoon by members of the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs under the direction of J. Merrill Knaap of the Department of Music at Princeton. The singers, with orchestra, will meet at 5 in the gymnasium of Miss Fine's School.

Soloists will be Thelma Young, soprano; Barbara Hilbish, contralto; Robert Holland, tenor; and Woodward Waesche, bass. Supper reservations should be made between 2 and 5 p.m. week-days at WA 4-0453.

CHILD WILL PLAY

In Recital on Sunday, Kiyoko Takeuti, 11-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gaisi Takeuti, Einstein Drive, piano student of Mrs. Naomi Chandler, will play in a recital this Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Chandler, Westcott Road.

Kiyoko will play the French Suite in E Major of Bach, six selections from Schumann's Kinderszenen, and the allegro movement of Mozart's Concerto in B-flat, K. 450. The orchestral parts of the Mozart will be played on a second piano.

Kiyoko began her piano studies with her mother at the age of 4 and later studied at the University of Art, Tokyo. Her father is a mathematician at the Institute for Advanced Study.

WRITE A SONG AND WIN

Contest Planned. Boys and girls in Princeton schools have begun setting words to music so that they can win prizes in the 1960 Songwriting Contest sponsored by the Music Study Group of Princeton. Mrs. E. G. Weyer is chairman of the contest.

Participating schools are Nassau Street Quarry Street Valley Road, Littlebrook, Riverside, Johnson Park and Miss Fine's. All students in fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are eligible and there will be two prizes for each grade and honorable mention "where appropriate." Winners will be announced in April.

FROM LAST TO FIRST

In Eight Astounding Weeks, A couple of hours before midnight on January 2, Princeton's basketball team headed back to the campus from Philadelphia having launched its 1960 Ivy season with a none-too-surprising defeat at the hands of Pennsylvania.

The Tigers had won only two of their first seven games and it was not necessarily expected that they would begin their league season with a victory away from home. The setback put them in a three-way tie for last place with Brown and Columbia.

A couple of hours before midnight on February 27, Princeton's basketball team headed back to the campus from Hanover having trounced defending champion Dartmouth in completely surprising fashion to take a firm hold on first place.

The triumph was the Tigers' 11th in their last 13 games, while the setback was the first Ivy loss the favored Indians have suffered on their own court in regulation time in three years. Brown topped them in an extra period last month, but the 2400 fans who saw last Saturday's game could hardly have been more surprised at the thorough manner in which Princeton subdued the Green. At one point before the final buzzer, Cappy Cappon's forces rolled out to a 15-point (73-58) lead.

Two Games This Weekend. Last-place Columbia will come to Dillon Gym Friday night at 8, while Cornell's high-scoring quintet will be the final opponent of the regular season Saturday at the same hour. The Orange and Black handled the Lions with ease on the Morningside Heights court three weeks ago, winning, 54-72, and even in a topsy-turvy year it is difficult to see anything but an easy repetition of the victory here.

Cornell could be far more of a problem. The tall Ithacans have a balanced quintet that consists of three seniors, a junior and a standout sophomore, and they already hold a 72-61 triumph over Princeton.

George Farley at 6-7 is three inches taller than any of Cappon's regulars, while Captain Dave Zornow is 6-5. Jay Harris is 6-3, as are sophomore Bill Baugh and junior John Petry — height that makes the Red a formidable rebounding contingent. It could be a battle right down to the last few minutes.

Princeton's victory at Hanover was achieved as an uphill fight, with the waning minutes of the first half finding the visitors trailing by as much as six points. They narrowed the gap slightly to 32-27 at the intermission, and then came back to stage what is in all probability the best second half performance, percentage-wise, in Princeton basketball history.

Scoring 50 points in 20 minutes, Cappon's ballhawks hit on 16 of their 20 field goal attempts for an astounding 80 percent. That kind of performance on a court away from home against the defending champions is sheer melodrama of the most unbelievable sort.

Campbell Gets 29. Converting all 11 of his efforts from the free-throw line, and hitting on nine of 13 field goal attempts, sophomore Pete Campbell scored one more point than the top two Dartmouth players, Chuck Kaufman and Gary Vandeweghe, made together. They each made 14. Campbell's 26 at Harvard the night before gave him a 12-game Ivy total of 272 and an insurmountable lead in the race for individual scoring honors.

He will become the first sophomore to top the standings since Columbia's Chet Forte turned the trick five years ago with 296 points. Bud Haabestad, who captained Princeton's Ivy champions that season, was the last Orange and Black player to head the scoring parade, a feat he accomplished as a junior in 1954.

A fine second half performance against Harvard was also responsible for victory at Cambridge in a contest that the Tigers won, 76-67. They trailed only during the first minute of the game but their lead at the intermission was a mere 30-28.

Thereafter, they widened the bulge steadily, beating Harvard's zone-press defense as Campbell collected 16 of his 26 points in the final ten minutes. He and Captain Jim Brangan poured in 33 of Princeton's 46 points in the second period.

Brangan's all-around floor play in both games was outstanding, featuring numerous steals on defense and many assists on passes that set up other players for scoring shots. His last basket at Hanover gave him a career total of 1000 points, making him the third player (with Haabestad and Carl Belz) to top that figure here. Without a doubt, he is the Ivy League's most valuable player of the current season.

TIGER SIX WINS PAIR

Defeated Yale and Cornell. Victories by 5-1 over Yale and 6-1 over Cornell moved Princeton's hockey team into a fourth-place tie with the Elis as the season began its final week. The Tigers conclude their schedule at Hanover Saturday against a Dartmouth six that is on the way to its second straight championship. (For results of Tuesday's game with Harvard at Cambridge, see page 26.)

Princeton had no trouble in topping a Yale outfit which had beaten it, 2-1, earlier in the month at New Haven. The Tigers scored first (at 4:01 of the opening round on a goal credited to Lance Odden), fell back to a 1-1 tie before the round ended but then took complete control.

THE PRINCETON BENCH

If the Ivy Basketball League title comes to Princeton this season, it will be the fourth for the Tigers in 11 years—a record no other member of the eight-team circuit can match. But of the four, it will be the first toward which substitutes ("the bench") have made a major contribution.

Of the five players who started the two crucial contests last week at Cambridge and Hanover, only three (Captain Jim Brangan, Pete Campbell, Don Swan) have been regulars all season long. Otherwise, Cappy Cappon, who dearly loves to go the full 40 minutes with an "iron man" five, has often shuffled players in and out in a manner reminiscent of Casey Stengel. When sophomore center Al Ksemmerlen had fully recovered from a knee injury, Cappon appeared set with five players, who promptly ran off a five-game winning streak. But Ksemmerlen was placed on academic probation, and the procession to the bench began.

First to click in the clutch was 6-4 Tom Adams, a junior who had played only seven minutes before the first Dartmouth game. When Larry Brennan fouled out in the closing minutes, Adams took over "on the post," rebounded well and contributed four vital points in the overtime period. In the victory over Harvard, a team that has occasionally caught the Tigers napping, Adams broke into double figures for the first time in his career with ten.

Next night, in the return contest with Dartmouth, Cappon went to the bench again when Adams fouled out late in the first half. Into his place went John Pasalis, whose action so far this season had been limited to nine minutes—all after the outcome had been decided. The 6-2 junior, whose name does not even appear in the Ivy League roster, contributed nine points during the second-half surge that saw the Tigers rally in unstoppable fashion.

Another junior, Andy Higgins, fits into much the same pattern, his seven points when they counted most aiding the Tigers' cause greatly in the first series, sweep recorded against a Dartmouth quintet, in several years. The bench has had it when called on, a true mark of patience and hard work on the part of both coach and player alike. This weekend, the payoff should come in the form of one of the most intriguing Cinderella stories in Princeton athletic history.

Sports In Princeton

Tommy Campbell getting the others. Goalie Barry Van Gerbig would have had a shutout had it not been for a faulty clearing pass that set up the lovers' lone goal.

It took the Tigers a considerable time to dominate a weak Cornell sextet that went home on the very long end of a 1-18 record. A visible lack of determination saw the home team leave the ice after the first round ahead by only 1-0, despite the fact that the Ithacans at one time were two men short for more than a minute.

A three-goal second period took care of matters satisfactorily as Billy Miller scored twice and Pell once. Captain John McBride's goal and two assists raised his season's total (and personal record) to 51.

OTHER SPORTS

Elk Swimmers Win. Yale's swimming team kept its long streak intact as its heads for its showdown with Harvard this weekend by trouncing Princeton in Dillon Pool, 74-21. Princeton's previously unbeaten freshmen had entertained hopes of trimming their Elk counterparts, but lost, 62-43.

Dartmouth's swimming team will be here Saturday at 2:30, with Cornell's Ivy champion wrestlers in Dillon Gym an hour later. The Tiger nineties dropped their last outing to Yale, 17-11.

John Conroy's squash team will be at Anherst for the intercollegiate, defending the national championship it won a year ago. Steve Vehalage, unbeaten in dual competition this year, will seek to repeat as the individual titleholder, with sophomore Jim Zug also figured to finish well up for the Tigers.

Title Wrestling Here

The annual Eastern Inter-collegiate Wrestling Championships will be staged in Diller Gymnasium Friday and Saturday, March 21 and 22, with 16 colleges entered. Lehigh will defend its team title, with Penn State favored to succeed the Engineers.

The first of 72 preliminary bouts will begin at 1 o'clock Friday, with four mats in use simultaneously. Quarter-finals are set for 8 that night; semi-finals at 1 Saturday and the championship round at 8 o'clock.

More than 2,000 wrestling enthusiasts from such hotbeds as Bethlehem, Lancaster and University Park (homes of Lehigh, Franklin and Marshall and Penn St. e) are expected to attend on Saturday. Other colleges entered include Army, Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, Navy, Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, Princeton, Rutgers, Syracuse, Temple and Yale.

Copeland and Fisher with 11 each. Lackey got all his seven in the last quarter to pace his team's winning rally.

HUN OUSTED

From Prep School Tournament. The Hun basketball team was knocked out of the New Jersey Independent Schools Athletic Association Group 3 Basketball Tournament, an invitational tournament in which the leading prep school quintets of the state compete, by losing its opening game Saturday to powerful Newark Academy, 55-31.

Hun never led in the game played at Peddie. Outscored in every quarter, the losers fell behind 28-12 at the half. It was the sixth loss for Hun in 15 games, still one of its best records in a number of seasons.

Jay Maynell with eight and Bill Gilman with seven were the top point-getters for Hun. Captain Lou D'Ambrosio, who had an off game, was limited to one field goal.

Hun Edges Pingry, 38-35. In its final game of the year against a regular-season opponent, the Hun five held on to eke out a three-point victory over Pingry last Wednesday on the loser's court. It was the fifth win for Hun in its last six games.

Once again the visitors resorted to a full court press to untrack their opponents attack. Taking advantage of the press — forcing a hurried player to throw the ball away and intercepting passes—Hun was able to overcome its taller opponents.

Gilman was high scorer for the victors with 13. D'Ambrosio followed with 11 while Dave Savidge and most of the rebounding for Hun.

BOWLING NOTES

Leaders Hold Position. All first-place teams in Princeton's major leagues held their leads during last week's bowling action. The Sculerati and Wheeler teams, which finished first and second in the first half of the Mixed League, both swept their opening series as the second half began. Shelton Motors (24) held a two-game edge over Edwards Engraving in the "B" League.

Tiger Garage continued to lead Wengryn Construction (16) by four points in the Industrial loop. Leaders in the "A" League were the Rookies (32), followed by Farr Hardware (28), and Shelton Motors and Grover Lumber with 27 points each. Decker's paced the Women's Industrial loop with a three-point edge over Anthony's (30), and Nassau Del topped the Women's League by only one point over Amron Homes and Tiger Bus, with 38 each.

High game for the week was Tony Tomasic's 257 in a 641 series in the "B" League. That loop also had a 627 series by Jim Kahny, including 230-234, and a 602 series by Fred Procacini, with a 238. Other top games included Larry Golden, 233; Bill Murphy, 232; Don Snyder, 224; in the "B" League; and John Mihaliko, 213; George Wengryn, 211; and Nick Sculerati, 210, in the Industrial League.

Princetonians in Action

Seven residents of the Princeton area played in the traditional Andover-Exeter hockey game Saturday, a contest that Andover won, 5-0, on Exeter's rink.

Co-Captain Webb Harrison scored one of the goals and was credited with two assists, while Hugh Wise, Andover's other captain, made three assists. Charlie Stuart, who started on defense for the victors, had an assist and defenseman Jobe Stevens a goal. Others to see action for Andover were George Peterson on the second line and Fritz Mock on defense. Pony Fraker was the lone Princetonian playing for Exeter.

Stevens had not played this winter following a knee operation at Christmas-time, but received medical clearance for the final week of the season. In Andover's game with the Harvard junior varsity, his sudden-death overtime goal gave the prep school skaters a 6-5 victory.

Prove it to yourself! Dramatic test proves Plymouth gives you more miles per gallon!

Others talk gas savings... but Plymouth lets you see it. At your dealer's now—the PLYMOUTH PROVE-IT-YOURSELF ECONOMY DRIVE lets you take the wheel and see exactly the mileage you get! Thousands have taken this convincing drive. Don't miss it!

No special test track... no special test conditions... no special test driver! Just you at the wheel of a regular full-size Plymouth. Here's how it works:

Mounted on one side of a Plymouth is a jar which feeds a measured amount of gas directly to the car. You turn a control and the car is powered by the gas from this ECONOMY METER.

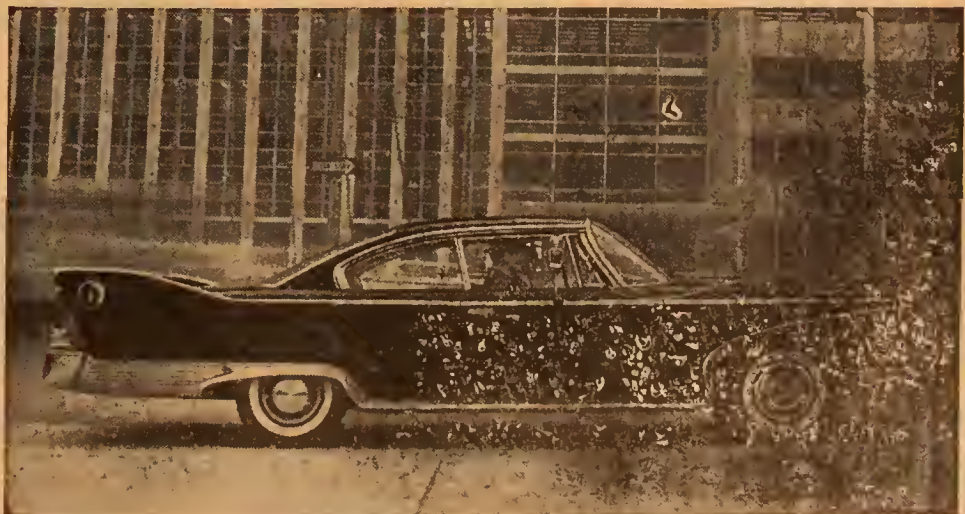

Then you drive in your usual fashion, through normal traffic. When the gas in the jar has been used, check the mileage reading on the speedometer. See for yourself the mileage you got on just a small amount of fuel. Simple, fair—and dramatic proof, we think, of the solid gas economy engineered into the Solid Plymouth for 1960. See your Plymouth dealer.

A Chrysler-engineered product, built a new solid way to give you solid satisfaction.

Mixed League, and 206-192 in the Women's League. Other high scores included Betty Snyder, 200; Eleanor Mansue, 198; Millie Tranl, 194; and Marilyn Lowe, 192, in the Women's loop; and Eileen Henderson, 190, and Sara Rose, 187-178, in the Mixed League.

TIGER SIX LOSES, 4-5

In Overtime to Harvard. A two-goal effort by Captain John McBride earned Princeton a 3-3 tie with Harvard Tuesday night less than five minutes before the end of regulation time.

A scant 14 seconds after the extra session began, however, the Crimson's Captain Mike Graney slapped a loose puck past goalie Barry Van Gerbig from 20 feet out. The resultant 4-3 defeat at Cambridge left the Tigers in a fourth-place tie with Yale as they head for the final game of the year Saturday at Hanover.

Lance Odden's goal at 9:43 of the first period sent the Tigers out in front but three by Harvard in the second round gave the Crimson a 3-2 lead as that period ended. The first of McBride's pair was registered at 15:35 with Pete Cook and Chris Gordon assisting.

Just four minutes and 24 seconds before the end of the third period, McBride hit again, this time on assists from Billy Miller and Doug Davis. In the overtime session, the Tigers never got control of the puck before Harvard's winning goal. They had 23 shots on the victors' cage compared to 32 for the Cantabs.

PETTIT SETS RECORD

In Basketball at PCD. Hitting for a total of 207 points this season, Karl "Pepper" Pettit broke the Princeton Country Day School scoring record in basketball. The former mark of 151 was held by Bill Applegate, who set it in 1957.

Pettit, followed by Dick Reynolds, was high scorer in each of the Blue and White's last two games, both played in a losing cause. Pennington topped PCD on Tuesday, 46-38, and Englewood won last Friday, 43-39. Country Day had slim half-time leads in both contests but could not maintain the margin.

A 7-2 victory over the Hill School juniors and a 3-3 tie with Lawrenceville marked the PCD hockey team's week. A contest with Wissahickon on Wednesday brought the season to a close.

Captain Bill Smoyer and Pete Kirkpatrick each scored twice in the victory over Hill at Pottstown. John Odden got two of the three goals against Lawrenceville, with Peter Morse tallying the other.

ST. PAUL'S WINS TWO

Avenge Only Defeat. The Cavaliers of St. Paul's School edged past Our Lady of Sorrows, 28-26, last week to give their basketball team an 8-1 season mark. Trailing all the way, they hit for six

Playoff Possibilities

For the fourth time in the last seven years, a Princeton basketball team may be involved in a playoff for the Ivy League championship. As was the case in 1955 (when the Tigers topped Columbia after the Lions had turned back Penn), a triple tie is possible.

If Princeton, Cornell and Dartmouth all win Friday night, the three-way deadlock will occur with a Cornell victory over the Tigers Saturday and a Dartmouth triumph over Brown. In that event, the flip of a coin will determine which two teams will meet Wednesday on a neutral court, with the winner then playing the quintet drawing a first-round bye. Yale's Payne Whitney Gymnasium (site of the Dartmouth-Princeton playoff last March) or Philadelphia's Palestra are the probable sites.

In the event of an outright Princeton victory, the Tigers will play Tuesday at New York's Madison Square Garden in the first-round of an NCAA triple-header. Their opponent will be either North Carolina or Wake Forest, which began the week with identical 12-2 records in Atlantic Coast Conference play. An Ivy playoff will mean no entry from the league in NCAA play.

points in the last minute to win the game. Our Lady of Sorrows was the only team that has beaten St. Paul's this season.

Earlier in the week, the Cavaliers broke a 14-14 halftime tie and went on to beat St. Mary's, 45-22. Top scorers were Bill Barkley with 15 and Al Procaccini with 13. Procaccini, one of the team's high scorers, also hit for 15 points in the Our Lady of Sorrows game.

SKIERS PLAN WEEKEND

And Monthly Meeting. Skiers who belong to the Princeton Ski Club will go to Killington, Vt., this week-end. The trip is the year's fourth expedition to Vermont. Two more trips are planned, one to Whiteface, N. Y., and one to Stowe, Vt.

The next meeting of the Club will be held next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at Rossi's Restaurant, Route No. 1, Clarksville. Skiers who would like to join the Club or learn more about its activities are invited to attend.

PARENT-SON DINNER HELD
By Cub Pack 77. Eighty parents and cubs of Pack 77 took part in the organization's annual Blue and Gold dinner, held at the Nassau Inn.

Achievement awards were presented to: Eric Saunders, Kenneth Klothen, Richard Meservey, Eugene Chang, Simeon Moss, Daniel Hill, Thomas Lawson, Robert Walton and Barry Henninger. Also, Theodore Tetzie, William Hartley, Alex Donald, Stanley Fielder, Stephen Fishbein, James Simmons, Steven Lewis and Charles Simmons.

Four Webelos were given certificates by Cubmaster Alexander Donald for satisfactorily completing all requirements. These four boys, who are now eligible for Boy Scout membership, are Brad Blaisdell, Jon Durbin, Eric Glover and Chris Holder.

Following the dinner, a marionette show was presented by Mrs. Lucy Morton and her family. James Blaisdell served as toastmaster.

News Of The CHURCHES

NEW MINISTER CHOSEN

At First Presbyterian. The Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel has been called as minister to the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton. He was unanimously elected at a meeting of the congregation on Sunday.

The Rev. Dr. Meisel, who is currently pastor of Wyoming Presbyterian Church, Millburn, N.J., is expected to take over his new post in May. He succeeds the Rev. Dr. John R. Bodo, who resigned last June to join the faculty of San Francisco Theological Seminary.

The Rev. Dr. Meisel is no stranger to Princeton, having come here in 1944 to participate in the Navy V-12 training program and later to study at Princeton Theological Seminary, from which he received his B.D. degree in 1947. A native of St. Paul, Minn., where he was born on May 15, 1923, he attended the College of Wooster, Ohio, and Macalester College in St. Paul for three years before entering the Navy and received his B.A. from Macalester in 1945.

He was ordained by the St. Paul Presbytery in 1947 and then spent two years studying at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland and Basel University, Switzerland. His first pastorate began in 1950 at the Second Presbyterian Church of Rahway, N. J., where he served four years, meanwhile obtaining his Ph. D. degree in 1954 from New College, University of Edinburgh.

Active in Synod of N. J. Now in his sixth year as pastor of the Millburn church, the Rev. Dr. Meisel represents the Synod of New Jersey on the board of trustees of Bloomfield College and Seminary and is a member of the Synod's Committee on Theological Education. He is also chairman of the Committee on Candidates and Examinations for the Presbytery of Morris and Orange. He was an official delegate to the General Assembly in 1950 and again in 1959. For the past five years he has served on the faculty of the Blair Senior High Summer Conference and in 1958 and 1959 was director of Blair II.

The Rev. Dr. Meisel was married in 1953 to Miss Eleanor Williams. They have three children, Donald, 5, Nancy, 3, and Wayne, 1.

SHAW HEADS CAMPAIGN

For Calvary Baptist, Dwight A. Shaw of 34 Vandewater Avenue has been named chairman of the capital fund campaign to be held this Spring by Calvary Baptist Church, Walnut Lane and Houghton Road. Mr. Shaw is secretary-treasurer of American Business Executives, Inc., Palmer Square.

The campaign has a victory goal of $30,000 and a challenge goal of $40,000. Funds up to $30,000 will be used for commitments made in erecting the new church building and any donations above this will help purchase pulpit furniture, pews, and additional landscaping.

CALLED TO PRINCETON: The Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel, pastor of Wyoming Presbyterian Church, Millburn, has been called as minister to First Presbyterian Church.

UNION SERVICES SET

By Five Churches. A series of union Lenten services has been arranged by five Presbyterian churches in the Princeton area. They are Dayton Presbyterian; Community Presbyterian of the Sand Hills, Kendall Park; Kingston Presbyterian; Miller Memorial Presbyterian, Monmouth Junction, and First Presbyterian, Plainsboro.

Services will be held each Wednesday at 8 p.m. Ministers of the participating churches will exchange pulpits. Locations will be as follows: March 9, Dayton Presbyterian; March 18, Plainsboro; March 23, Monmouth Junction; March 30, Kingston, and April 6, Kendall Park.

BULLETIN NOTES

A spaghetti dinner will be held Saturday from 6 to 7 p.m. at Rosedale Chapel. Adult tickets will cost $1.75; children from 5 to 12, 75 cents, and children under 5 will be admitted free.

The Adult Fellowship of Princeton Methodist Church will meet Saturday at 7 p.m. for a covered-dish supper and a tour through the current exhibit at Firestone Library, which features findings of a recent expedition to Mt. Sinai and St. Catherine Monastery.

A chicken or roast beef dinner will be served from 12:30 to 6:30 p.m. on Sunday at First Baptist Church by the men of the church. Carl E. Brown, Sr., is chairman. Donations will be $1.50 each, and proceeds will benefit Men's Day.

A discussion of "The Hassidic Movement," led by Dr. Egan Loebner and Dr. Seymour Adler and moderated by Professor Samuel Kurland of Dropsie College, will be held Monday at 8:30 p.m. at Princeton Jewish Center. Rabbi Aaron Krauss will talk on "The Exodus from Egypt" Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. Those interested in attending should call Harold Borkan at WA 1-7885.

The Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal Church will meet Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Parish —Continued on Page 28
